The Student Readiness Symposiums are designed to equip attendees with engaging, dynamic practices that foster a culture of post-secondary possibilities, and maximize student-advising efforts. This event will feature strategies focused on school-wide strategies that engage all students in college and career readiness exploration. This year, school counselor, career advisors, and building administrators are invited to bring their teams to explore how they can reach all students through these efforts.

Professional development credit will be available; information will be provided on-site.
