

MAKING IDAHO ROADS SAFE

Driver Education

News

Travis Hinthorn and two of his students were involved in a severe head on crash in Bonners Ferry August 18, 2014.

Travis suffered a broken fibula, index finger, and elbow. Travis said, "I also broke three lower ribs on my left side from the seat belt. Much better than the alternative of not wearing it." He was able to return to teaching Health and PE classes at Boundary Middle School on October 6th.

Reese, the driver, broke his right hand and right ankle. He was just cleared to play basketball. Anthony was in the back seat and suffered life threatening internal injuries. Last week Anthony was holding the door open for a young girl at his school and she said, "Thank you, nobody does that anymore." Anthony said, "I almost died so I might as well be remembered as a nice guy." The picture above is Travis and the boys finishing their last drive after healing from a very emotional crash. The driver of the other vehicle was cited for inattentive driving.

The Free Online Guide to Learning to Drive

Welcome to Driver's Ed Guru!

If you're learning to drive or teaching teenagers the rules of the road, you may be bewildered as to where to start. We're dedicated to providing free instruction and advice for everything related to driver's ed and learning how to drive.

What this site is not: We are not a driving school. We are not selling online training courses. In fact, we don't sell anything at all. We give a few product recommendations, but we're a completely free and friendly driver's ed resource.

Why this site was created: I created this site because I was almost killed in a car crash when I was a teenager. The driver of the car fell asleep at the wheel on the highway and our car flipped several times. We barely escaped with our lives. Since then, I've been passionately involved in teaching teens how to drive safely. So, now that you know why this place exists, please enjoy!
