	Notes: Highly recommend as a resource only for reading and speaking and listening. 91% alignment to the reading, speaking, and listening CCSS only and 72% overall alignment to the CCSS. The listed copyright dates are 2013 but the materials that were received had copyrights of 2007 and 2008. Key Features: The Bookshop Core Reading Program is taught during a daily 2 ½ hour Literacy Block. Whole group strategies include shared reading and read aloud. Small group strategies may include oral language, shared reading, and guided reading. Phonics is taught in both small and whole-group situations. Scope &amp; sequence/pacing charts delineate the lesson sequences and focuses for each instructional strategy. This enables teachers to set out individual instructional pathways based on students' assessed readiness needs. Teachers have ample high-quality resources for teaching at students' appropriate instructional levels, which allows students to take immediate ownership of their learning. Bookshop includes a full battery of correlated assessments. Data from these assessments clarify instructional starting points for each student, and allow for ongoing progress monitoring to inform differentiated instruction. A range of leveled fiction and nonfiction materials in a range of sizes, shapes, and formats is provided for each grade level. Fiction/nonfiction split is approximately 50/50 in each grade. Titles represent over 20 text types.
