Workshop 1

Identity Development & Strategies for Student Success

Francisco Salinas, Boise State

Teacher Track Session 1

Defining Equity

In this session, we will work to create a shared definition of equity taking into consideration local contexts, biases, experiences, and identities.

Serena Hicks & Julianne Wenner, Boise State

11:00 – 11:55 p.m.

Workshop 2

American Indian Student Panel

American Indian college students will share their experiences about the transition from high school to higher education. The topics will address knowledge of the higher education process and available college options, preparing for a successful transition (academically, socially, financially), and factors that have led to their success.

Andrea Orozco, Boise State (facilitator)

Teacher Track Session 2

Rules of Notice

What will we notice in a classroom if there are patterns of practice that teach for equity? This session looks at your own practices and brainstorms best practices for classroom teaching.

Serena Hicks & Julianne Wenner, Boise State

12:00-12:45 p.m.

Catered lunch

1:00 – 1:55 p.m.

Workshop 3

Tribal-Public School Partnerships

How to work with tribal education directors, council members, and vocational rehabilitation services to develop support systems for those interested in pursuing training and education. Collaborate with public school personnel to support and engage Native American students to identify career pathways and higher education options. Conduct education systems analysis to determine gaps and strengths of program delivery.

Antoinette Cavanaugh, presenter

Teacher Track Session 3 Elements of Culturally Responsive Teaching

Using Ladson-Billings' (1994) seven key elements of culturally responsive teaching as well as considerations of how texts can impact student access and opportunity, we will audit our own instructional practices and think more deeply about how we can better support all students.

Serena Hicks & Julianne Wenner, Boise State

2:00 – 2:55 p.m.
Workshop 4

American Indian Student Success: Academic and Student Life Support Systems in Higher Education

Connect your students to support programs and services designed to assist students in meeting their educational goals, both in and out of the classroom. Boise State and Lewis Clark State College will present current programs and services: Student Mentoring & Advocacy, First Forward, Liaison with Area Tribes & Programs, Emergency Assistance for Native American Students, TRIO, McNair's Scholars Program, Institute for STEM & Diversity Initiatives, Inclusive Excellence Council, Student Organizations, and Cultural Awareness Programming.

Francisco Salinas and Bob Sobotta, presenters

Teacher Track 4

Teaching for Equity Workspace

In light of the day's discussions, we will work to take concrete steps in our instruction (e.g. specific lessons, activities, classroom structures, etc.) and build equitable practices for our classroom.

Serena Hicks & Julianne Wenner, Boise State

3:00 - 3:15 p.m.

Refreshment and Networking Break

3:15 – 5:00 p.m.

Reconvene as a Group
